Service Agreement 1 Statutory Competent Advisors

Health and safety law requires that you appoint a competent person to take care of your health and safety for you. To do this, you have only three options: try to do it yourself; employ someone in-house who is competent; or engage an external consultant.

Trying to do health and safety yourself as well as run a company can be next to impossible.

If you can afford it, you could employ a health and safety manager on £40,000+ p.a. to handle it for you.

Realistically, most small to medium sized businesses need external consultants like the HSConsortium.

Our Statutory Competent Advisors service goes beyond the minimum legal standard, giving you:

- Full compliance with the Reg. 7 legal duty;
- Unlimited office hours expert advice line;
- On-going law and practice update service.

Statutory Competent Advisor is the very best way to achieve minimum compliance with the law without breaking the bank; perfect for start ups and small businesses.

Service Agreement 2 Health and Safety Essentials

This is for clients who want more than standby expertise. If you want a comprehensive, straightforward and effective health and safety management system to help you manage things yourself at low cost, this is for you.

Our Health and Safety Essentials service provides all the benefits of the Statutory Competent Advisor service but also gives you:

- H & S Policy, Procedures and Booklets;
- H & S Monitoring System and Record Forms;
- Risk/COSHH Assessments and Safe Systems of Work;
- On-going document update service

Health and Safety Essentials is the perfect way to manage health and safety yourself at a minimal cost.

Service Agreement 3 Health and Safety Proactive

This is for clients who not only want to comply with the law and have a market-leading health and safety management system in place but also have it run under the guidance of the professionals to make sure everything is perfect.

Our Health and Safety Proactive service provides all the benefits of our Statutory Competent Advisor service and our Health and Safety Essentials service AND even more:

- On-going H & S audit on a quarterly basis;
- Safety Committees on a quarterly basis;
- Premises fire risk assessment;
- On-going training needs management;
- 10% discount on all recommended training;
- HSE investigation protection guarantee.

Health and Safety Proactive is the UK's leading service for solving all your health and safety challenges cost-effectively.
